AUTING CHAIRMAN JOHNSON SAYS.

J. G. Johnson (Kansas)-Nothing has occurred since 1896 to shake the at Chicago in 1896. faith of Democrats in the principles announced in the Chicago platform. The financial question is still the dominant issue, and all other economic questions acknowledged by the President and are but collateral to it. coming Democratic platform and the Increase in the value of money robe debtors. It forces every one of them to pay more than he covenanted-not more dollars, but more value, the given number of dollars embodying at date of payment greater value than date of contract. Decrease in the value of money robs creditors, necessitating each to put up, in payment of what is due to him, with a smaller modicum of value than was agreed upon. Such loss, whichever the direction of its incidence, is a misfortune not only jurally, but also economically, free play of exchange among men. In case money gains in power over commodities, so that prices fall, a quiet special degree of this friction is experienced. Under such circumstances money and 'titles to money become rich forms of property to hold, apart from the interest upon them, that is, apart from the use of them. Money is thus no longer freely exchanged, as it should be for other forms of capital, but is either hearded or loaned to such from a fight against trusts. Hence, I as can thoroughly assure its return in kind. It will, of course, be quoted as Chicago platform is a certainty, and easy, at such times, but this will by no means be a proof, as is often assumed, of its continuance in its former plentifulness relatively to the volume against trusts and militarism will be of trade, but of precisely the reverse' Interest is low in such a case not be-... cause money is as abundant as before, but because it is not, its scarcity having induced fall of prices and so paralysis in industry. Again, and again in recent years the London Ke or mist has reported money as easy, but bullion in demand; low interest accompanying actual decrease in the volume of freasure. Many of our brightest writers upon the mouetary problems of the year just past have apparently failed to master this point.

COL. JOHN MERCER BROOKE.

The Board of Visitors of the Vir ginia Military Institute, on the retirement of Colonel John Mercer Brooke, adopted the following resolution:

"In retiring Colonel Brooke from the burden of active work, the board desires to put upon record the expression of their estimate of his exalted character, eminent ability, and faithful service. His distinguished service as an officer of the United States navy and subsequently of the Confederate States navy, all antecedent to his connection with the Virginia Military Institute; the incalculable value of his scientific work in the construction of ordinance, in devising such a method of deep-sea sounding as to render practieable the laying of ocean cables, and in so constructing armor-elad ships o war as to revolutionize naval warf re and the building of navies, have reflected great credit upon his native State and this institution, and mal the civilized world his debtor."

Other reports from Cartersville say that fring still continues. Both sides are well armed and determined, and the sheriff is powerless. Only the presence of State troops, it is asserted, will prevent the loss of many lives.

STRIKE LIKELY AT HOME-STEAD.

Pittiburg, Pa., July 1 .- There now seems to be no doubt that there will e an extensive strike at the big homestead plant of the Carnegie Steel Company. Whether or not the contest will rival that inaugurated July 1,1892, remains to be seen. The question at issue is practically the same as in '92recognition by the company of Amalgamated Association-and men seem determined to stand by their union to the very last, The company on the other hand has announced derisively that no Amalgamated Association men can have employment in its plant. The present trouble was precipitated yesterday when a committee of 13, representing the Hemestead Lodge of the Amalgamented Association, went to Supt. Corry to demand the reinstatement of the fifteen union men who had been discharged at one time or another in the iast three weeks. Mr. Corry and President C. M. Schwab received them in the company office, and not only discharged them, but informed them that they could not go back into the mill to get their dinner buckets. This action of the company incensed the Amalgamated people, and they immediately took steps to get their members and sympathizers out of the mill. Theredoubt.
